

Insider SCOPE

On 10 February, InsiderScope 2010 will bring together a cast list of influential and thought-provoking rainmakers to examine the portents and predict how the industry will fare in the year ahead.

In under three hours, InsiderScope attendees will hear from the recently appointed New York Insurance Superintendent (James Wrynn), the even newer Lloyd's Franchise Performance Director (Tom Bolt), Willis Group President (Joe Plumeri) and Swiss Re Head of Client Markets Europe (Martin Albers).

We think you'd be interested in knowing how to attend. After all, it promises to be a challenging year. Rates under pressure, a sluggish investment landscape and no shortage of capacity, together with the prospect of fresh claims emerging from the financial crises. But then again capitalising on the vicissitudes of insurance is always a challenge.

Join us on the 10 February and find out how you can...
