Editor's Note

Jan. 25, 2024

You know and love Insurance Insider for its first-to-market scoops, insightful analysis, and exclusive written interviews with the insurance industry's top leaders. Now, in addition to the written pieces you love, I'm thrilled to share the official launch of our new newsletter and platform, Insider on Air. By placing all our video interviews, podcasts, and webinars in a single location, we hope to make it easier for you to access Insurance Insider's multimedia news. No subscription is necessary to tap into this bespoke insight and we will highlight our latest offerings in this bi-weekly newsletter.

This week we focus on the booming E&S market with an interview with Tom Bredahl, Crum & Forster's surplus and specialty division president. Also, check out the great discussion from our recent webinar on the challenges and opportunities facing collateralized reinsurance.

Register to join our upcoming live webinars, where we always field as many as your questions as we can. And stay tuned: we have some exciting new projects to unveil in the coming weeks!

Thanks for watching, listening, and reading,
